

Internship
at Docplexus Online Services Pvt. Ltd, Pune

By
Purva Sharma

Dissertation submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements of the degree
MBA Health and Hospital Management

Academic year, 2017-2019

The IIHMR University, Jaipur

1, Prabhu Dayal Marg, Sanganer, Airport
Jaipur 302029, Rajasthan
Ph: 0141 3924700, Fax: 3924738
Website: www.iihmr.edu.in

Internship Report

About the Organization

Docplexus Empowers verified doctors practicing modern medicine to make better clinical decisions by facilitating exchange of patient cases, dialogue with other members, and offering knowledge centers, treatment guidelines, certified educational resources and latest medical news. We do everything with our core value of hard work, honesty and trust.

Medicine is changing—with rapid scientific advances, new technologies, and growing pressure to deliver patient care more efficiently. For physicians, pressed to adapt to these changes, Docplexus can help. By offering busy doctors a ready peer group and the clinical and practice management expertise they need, Docplexus helps physicians practice the Art of Modern Medicine.

MISSION

Docplexus believe, an informed doctor is better positioned to make clinical decisions, subsequently leading to advancement in healthcare. As a company with the mission of empowering doctors, our efforts are naturally directed at furthering knowledge-sharing by bringing the community closer. We make accessible peer advice, medical guidelines and updates on latest progress in different specialties on a single platform.

Membership to Docplexus is free but limited to verified Allopathic doctors only Docplexus is a leading medical professional network with more than 300,000 doctors as its members. It provides them the opportunity to connect with each other to collaborate on patient treatments, publish and read interesting articles and stay up-to-date with latest developments in their fields.

The Founder of Docplexus

Phanish Chandra - Co-Founder and CEO

Seasoned business executive with 15 years of expertise in startups, entrepreneurship, company building and solving problems in the technology space, the IIT Kharagpur Alumnus was the principal architect at Fourjs and has built cutting edge software products from scratch in multiple product companies.

Having served as a CTO in a startup before, he founded Docplexus in 2014 as a first mover in doctor networking space and has built it into one of the largest online platforms for the community. He is passionate about art, design and its practical application in technology based solutions

Docplexus Core Team

Nikhil Prasad - Chief Product Officer

An IIT Kanpur alumnus with a background in materials and metallurgical engineering, Nikhil has a knack for problem solving and a rich work experience of over 10 years. He is an authority on business planning, sales strategy, product development and campaign management.

Atil Parikh - Chief Technical Officer

An innovative technologist with a vast experience of 13 years in creating and delivering client-centric tools with value-driven solutions, Atil is extremely data-driven and a specialist in designing coherent enterprise platforms. From evaluating technology to discovering niche products for organizations, he is adept at it all.

Department Tree

