CARE INTERNATIONAL

CARE International is a leading humanitarian organization fighting global poverty. It places special focus on working alongside poor women because, equipped with the proper resources, women have the power to help whole families and entire communities escape poverty. Women are at the heart of their community-based efforts to improve basic education, prevent the spread of diseases, and increase access to clean water and sanitation, expand economic opportunity and protect natural resources. The organization also delivers emergency aid to survivors of war and natural disasters, and help people rebuild their lives.

In the fiscal year 2015, CARE worked in 95 countries around the world, supporting 890 poverty-fighting development and humanitarian aid projects to reach more than 65 million people.

CARE International is a global confederation of 14 National Members and one Affiliate Member with the common goal of fighting global poverty. Each CARE Member is an autonomous non-governmental organization and implements program, advocacy, fundraising and communications activities in its own country and in developing countries where CARE has programs. At the beginning, there was a package: a CARE package, aimed to reduce hunger and show solidarity with the people of war-torn Europe.

At the end of World War II in 1945, twenty-two American charities, a mixture of civic, religious, cooperative and labor organizations got together to found CARE. Originally known as the Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe, it began to deliver millions of CARE packages across Europe. This was basically a small shipment of food and relief supplies to hungry recipients - with a huge impact on people's lives.

During the next three decades, CARE shifted its focus from helping Europe to delivering assistance in the developing world. It started programs in the areas of education, natural resources management, nutrition, water and sanitation, and healthcare in Southern Africa, South Asia and South America. Broadening the geographic focus and expanding beyond the original food distribution programs, CARE started to assist people affected by major emergencies – from famine in Ethiopia to hurricane recovery in Honduras.

Over the previous decades, Care has continuously developed its approach to reducing poverty. In 1945, CARE was established on the premise that poverty was mainly due to a lack of basic goods, services, and healthcare. As the organization grew, so did their understanding of poverty. CARE's scope widened to include the view that poverty is often caused by the absence of rights, opportunities and assets, largely due to social exclusion, marginalization, and discrimination. In the early 1990's, its work grew into what they call a 'rightsbased approach' to development.

In 1993, in an effort to reflect the wider scope of its programs, vision and impact, CARE changed the meaning of its acronym to "Cooperative for Assistance and Relief Everywhere". By 2007, it started focusing on women's empowerment realizing that women are the key: by empowering women entire families can be lifted out of poverty.

CARE INDIA

CARE has been working in India for over 65 years, helping alleviate poverty and social exclusion by facilitating empowerment of women and girls from poor and marginalized communities. In India, CARE focuses on the empowerment of women and girls because they are disproportionately affected by poverty and discriminations; and suffer abuse and violations in the realization of their rights, entitlements and access and control over resources. They do this through well planned and comprehensive programmes in health, education, livelihoods and disaster preparedness and response.

To be able to bring about lasting change, CARE India addresses underlying causes of poverty and social injustice. For example, they implement a gender transformative framework within their programmes to address unequal power relations at the grassroots level.

CARE in India works across 14 States and 38 projects, touching the lives of 37 million people. Some of the notable initiatives of CARE India are:

- CARE India response on Cyclone Phailin hit on the Eastern Coast of India.
- CARE India Tsunami relief programme.
- CARE India response to floods in Uttarakhand.

CARE India has been working extensively in different parts of India. They work with grassroots initiatives, state and district governments, and communities and individual from all over the country. As of now, CARE India is present in 14 states of India, with the head office being in Delhi

Please see below for the list of the 14 states:

HISTORY OF CARE INDIA

CARE came to India in June 1946 when one of its co-founder, Lincoln Clark, signed the CARE Basic Agreement in New Delhi at the Office of Foreign Affairs. The agreement was limited to contributions of technical books and scientific equipment for universities and research institutes. In November 1949, the first Chief of Mission, Melvin Johnson, arrived in India to establish operations. Subsequently on the invitation of the then President of India, he developed a CARE India Food Package that caused a renegotiation of the CARE Agreement to include importation of food through Indo-CARE Agreement on 6 March 1950. The CARE Office during 1950's in Delhi was a hutment (a long, thin building) located in Janpath, Connaught Place. CARE had three additional offices and warehouses in India located in Bombay, Madras, and Calcutta.

The initial programmes those days included assistance to educational institutions, relief camps and assistance to hospitals in form of books, laboratory equipment, tools supply etc. When the Mid-Day Meal (MDM - school lunch) program started in 1960, state offices were established and the staff in Delhi and state offices increased. Since 1960's CARE has been supporting government's school feeding programs. CARE has been providing nutritious food for the beneficiaries of Integrated Child Development Services (ICDS) on the request of GOI since 1982. CARE supported the Government's ICDS in the states of Andhra Pradesh, Bihar, Madhya Pradesh, Odisha, Rajasthan, Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal. As a part of support from USAID, CARE implemented a long-term project named Integrated Nutrition and Health Project (INHP) from 1996 till 2010 and reached to about 1297 blocks in nine major states of India. Recognized worldwide for its contribution in disaster response and rehabilitation operations, CARE in India has supported the efforts of Government of India and individual state governments as and when major disasters occurred in the country. CARE has provided relief to several natural disasters since 1966 with Jammu and Kashmir floods 2014 and Hud Hud in Andhra Pradesh being the most recent. Some of the efforts include response to flood relief in West Bengal in 1979, cyclone in Andhra Pradesh in 1977 and in 1996, and earthquake relief in Latur, Maharashtra in 1993, and Odisha super cyclone in 1999.

CARE India's current 'Programme' approach stems from a redrawn vision, under which, working with partners on projects has been overlapped with holistic, long term, deep impact "programmes" that work directly with key populations to ensure that the root causes of poverty and marginalization of people, particularly poor women and girls, are tackled strategically and collaboratively.

As CARE India moves ahead, their key programming approaches will include social analysis and action, gender transformative value chain approaches, leadership and life skills strengthening, building capacities and leadership roles at multiple levels, advocacy on national and international platforms and facilitating links and dialogues between public, private and civil society
